

Annual Proceedings of Vidzeme University of Applied Sciences
“ICTE in Regional Development”, December 2009

The Annual Proceedings of Vidzeme University of Applied Sciences are aimed to introduction on research related with modern solutions and tools of Information Technologies, Telecommunications and Electronics used for regional development and sociotechnical systems management and control. It can be research related with knowledge based systems, content visualisation, simulation, animation and virtual and augmented reality solutions, precise research and models of social and environmental processes, logistics, transportation, data transmission and processing, software systems development, local and embedded automation. The Proceedings grant the possibilities for students and young scientists especially coming from regional universities free of charge publications. Professionals from ICTE, transport and communications and tourism sectors are invited. The Proceedings will be printed in English and will be distributed among leading higher educational institutions of Latvia, Europe and whole world.

The short annotations (1000 signs no more) must be submitted by 20 December 2009 on e-mail: egils.ginters@va.lv or by fax: +371-7970126. Full article (A4 pages) in electronic form (MS Word) must be submitted by 01 April 2010. Author kit will be sent after acceptance the theme of article.